

Mimi Moustapha (she/her)

Hello everyone! My name is Mimi Moustapha, and I am a second-year medical student at the University of Saskatchewan. I am excited to be running for Western Regional Director. My interests include cooking, learning about languages, practicing martial arts and travelling! I'm fluent in English and Japanese and I'm currently learning American Sign Language. I also have a second-degree black belt in Tae Kwon Do.

Before medical school, I did my BSc Psychology in Regina with a minor in Japanese, and my Master's degree in Japan as a MEXT scholar where I did my research in linguistic psychology.

During medical school, I have had the opportunity to expand on another passion of mine, advocacy, through my position as President of the Student Medical Society of Saskatchewan (SMSS), as well as being student group president of the Advocates Bringing Light to and Education on Disabilities at the U of S. As SMSS president, I've done a lot of work in creating policy to protect and improve medical student experience. In addition, I had the privilege to attend the CFMS President's round tables and I've learned a lot about the different successes and challenges of different medical societies. I'm excited for the opportunity to support medical societies and advocate for medical students in the West. With my experience, hard work, teamwork and leadership skills, I am confident that I will excel in the position of Western Regional Director.

Sincerely,

Mimi Moustapha
