

Nicoletta Dini

First Year Medical Student, Dalhousie University

Phone: 902-233-8158
Address: 504-6095 Coburg Road, B3H4K1
Email: nicoletta.dini.6@gmail.com

Full-time university student and mother with experience in the arts and social sciences, as well as medical sciences and research. My varied educational background reflects a broad curiosity, as well as adaptability to new fields of academic pursuit.

EDUCATION

Dalhousie University

2027 (expected)

Doctor of Medicine

2023 Dr. D.A. Gillis. Entrance Scholarship ($5,000)
Global Health Initiative, Local Officer of Global Health Outreach Jr.
Dal Green Team, member at large

Dalhousie University

2023

Bachelor of Science, Medical Sciences

Dean's List 2020, 2021, 2022, 4.30 GPA
2020 J & W Murphy Entrance Scholarship ($6,000)

University of King's College

2020 (completed 2019)

Master of Journalism, Investigative Journalism

NOMINEE - Canadian Association of Journalism (CAJ) Awards: Environmental and Climate Change Category
WINNER - Canadian Online Publishing Awards (COPA): Academic Division, Best Interactive/Infographic story
WINNER - Atlantic Journalism Awards: Best Student Journalism Category

University of King's College

2016

Bachelor of Journalism

CBC Investigative Journalism Internship (May, 2016)

Dalhousie University

2015

Bachelor of Arts, Political Science

Dean's List: 2014, 2015
2011 Dalhousie Entrance Renewable Scholarship ($16,000)
2011 Helen C McDowell Frandsen Scholarship ($5,000)

HEALTH SCIENCE RELATED EXPERIENCE

Dalhousie University, Department of Medical Neuroscience

June 2023-August 2023

Summer Student Prosector

Dissected human cadavers to produce high-quality dissections of different body parts that are used across Dalhousie's health science programs

Canadian Association of Physicians for the Environment (CAPE)

2021-present

NS

Founding member at large

Attend monthly Zoom meetings to discuss relevant actions at the intersection of climate change policy and health care; coauthored an open letter published in the Chronicle Herald and signed by medical and nursing students linking the 2021 election to climate and health

MAJOR JOURNALISTIC PUBLICATIONS

Harbour rising: Halifax's harbour front in 2100 come hell or high water

October 31, 2019

The Coast Halifax

Published as a version of my professional project from my MJ degree, which investigates sea level rise in Halifax Harbour using LiDAR data and ArcGIS mapping technology

Kicking the plastic habit: Why local businesses are re-embracing traditional and sustainable

January 23, 2020

The Coast Halifax

Published to spotlight local businesses combating plastic waste

OTHER INTERESTS

Dancing

Dal Dance Society, Thunderbirds Dance team, Halifax Hurricane's Dance team (Weather girls), Unleashed Dance team

Theatre

Dal Theatre Society, Gilbert and Sullivan Society, Bethlehem @ Barrington (2012-2022), other amateur theatre

Physical Activity

Dal Med Running Club, Intramural recreational sports (soccer, ultimate frisbee)

Environment and Politics

CAPE NS member, Green Party of Canada and Nova Scotia volunteer, Ecology Action Centre volunteer, Elections Canada volunteer, Feed NS volunteer